THE RECORD OF SARDONIC

The denigration of the Berceles master derives, a legend concerning a Gallego who was sentenced despite his protest of innocence. In a last moment to the judge, who was enjoying dinner at the time, his condemned man made a bold statement:

If this claim of innocence was true, the man on the judge's plate would get up and go home tonight - planned coherent response to the judge's claim.

The man was acquitted by reverse.
